Who We Are?

2

In 2010, Spring Mattresses Manufacturing L.L.C was founded as part of the International for Foam Group. The foundation of the company was a major milestone in the group's vertical expansion, by producing products that are ready to be resold through its partners or bought directly by the end users.

Over the years, the company has gained a great reputation around the world for its commitment to excellence, the products' variety, and the ability to deliver to its promises.

In addition, the company owns several showrooms, where it helps customers choose mattresses that help them sleep better, to help the world around us become healthier and happier.

As a result, these showrooms employ sleeping experts that helps you choose the most appropriate sleeping products, not only from the company's brands, but also from other international brands like Sealy, Simmons and many more sleeping products and materials.

Why Spring Rest?

We Commit to producing high-quality mattresses that provide comfort and durability for customers, regardless of the product range or category. We always choose the highest international standards in our fabrics. In addition, our production procedures ensures delivering lasting quality and features that gives our customers the mattresses and sleeping products they deserve.
